

NEW PERMANENT R-4 BEHAVIORAL HEALTH CENTER IN FRENCH CAMP

Mobile Modular provides efficient building solutions for the mental health needs of San Joaquin County residents.

THE CHALLENGE AND SOLUTION

French Camp, CA, near Stockton and the termination of the California-Oregon Trail, was named for French-Canadian fur traders who met there annually in the early 1800s. San Joaquin County received a grant to upgrade their in-patient R-4 Behavioral Health Center in French Camp. Mobile Modular provided three 96' x 60' modular units, totaling 24 floors, creating a semi-institutional space with modern design to facilitate staff in helping patients and providing comfort for residents. Custom features included extensive cabinet and storage installations, along with telecom setup. Mobile Modular also handled fire alarm, sprinkler, and utility connections, coordinating with 34 vendors over the five-month building completion period. Challenges included maneuvering the units along the concrete foundation to avoid power lines, switching to propane due to utility delays, and meeting grant deadlines amidst inclement weather. Despite setbacks, Mobile Modular delivered a solution aiding San Joaquin County in community patient services.
